

ISO 45001 Auditor Conversion

Extend your lead auditor expertise to occupational health and safety management systems (OH&SMS) with this CQI and IRCA certified ISO 45001 Auditor Conversion training course.

The course gives existing auditors the knowledge and expertise to perform 1st, 2nd and 3rd party audits of an OH&SMS against ISO 45001:2018.

The highly interactive training focuses around a simulated site audit, enabling students to work together put lessons learned into practice.

Successful completion satisfies the training requirements for certification as an IRCA OH&SMS auditor for those who are already lead auditors in another discipline.

Assessment is by continuous evaluation and an examination following the event.

CERTIFICATES

Delegates will receive a CQI & IRCA ISO 45001 Auditor Conversion course certificate.

Course ID: 2387

Who should attend?

This CQI & IRCA ISO 45001 Auditor Conversion course is recommended for:

- existing lead auditors in another discipline, such as ISO 9001 or ISO 14001, who now wish to audit an OH&SMS against ISO 45001
- those who have completed a CQI & IRCA lead auditor course in another discipline and have some understanding of ISO 45001.

Those with little or no prior knowledge of ISO 45001 will benefit from first attending our IOSH approved Introduction to ISO 45001:2018 training course before attending this ISO 45001 Auditor Conversion training course.

Key topics

Topics covered on the course include:

- occupational health and safety overview
- management systems audit overview
- ISO 45001 requirements and other standards
- OHS legislation and codes of practice
- stage 1 audit
- hazard identification and risk assessment controls
- audit planning and checklists
- opening meeting
- senior management review
- stage 2 audit: operational auditing
- non-conformances, corrective actions and follow-up
- closing meetings
- auditor review
- audit reports

Skills gained

At the end of this course, delegates will be able to demonstrate:

- explain the purpose and benefits of OH&SMS
- understand OH&S legislation and codes of practice
- plan, conduct, report and follow up internal, external and supplier audits for an OH&S management system to establish conformity (or otherwise) with ISO 45001, in accordance with ISO 19011 and ISO/IEC 17021 where appropriate
- verify that the OH&S policy commits to compliance with regulatory and legal requirements
- assess OH&S risks

Delegates who have already completed lead auditor training in another discipline will meet the training requirements for certification as an IRCA OH&SMS auditor on successful completion of this course.

Delegates will receive a CQI & IRCA ISO 45001 Auditor Conversion certificate.

The tutor was so knowledgeable which made is training style smooth and efficient, he was able to answer any questions we asked with ease, which gave us confidence in his abilities. He was also friendly and non-judgemental, easy to talk to, he took us through it step by step and a joy to have him as our trainer.

Home Office

Content was spot-on and I left feeling confident in application of the standard. Tutor was excellent too, kept to timings and was knowledgeable and easy to understand.

London And Southeastern Railway

The tutor was extremely knowledgeable with practical experience of the subject matter he was delivering – not just a “theorist”, as so often the case with some training.
